Forecast For Strathclyde
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Saturday 13 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells and blustery showers.

Today:
A bright day with a mix of sunny spells and blustery, occasionally heavy showers with a risk of hail, thunder and hill snow. The showers becoming less frequent later this afternoon as the fresh westerly winds turn more northwesterly. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers continue to affect Argyll and Ayrshire this evening and overnight, however around, and to the east of, Glasgow the showers largely die out with long clear spells developing. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Sunday:
Bright start, with a few showers in west, but increasing cloud brings occasionally heavy rain southeast through the middle of the day. Brighter and showery again later. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Mainly dry and bright through Monday but increasing cloud in afternoon brings evening rain. Tuesday and Wednesday then look dry with some good spells of sunshine, especially in west.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.